Narrative

On 31 January 2018 at about 1600 hours Fairfax Hospital, located at 10200 NE 132nd St. Kirkland WA 98034, called to report that one of their patients had been assaulted by another patient. The two parties had since been separated and the victim was currently in the emergency room at the hospital.

I arrived at Evergreen Hospital and spoke with [REDACTED] who wanted to report the assault. [REDACTED] stated that he was eating a snack with a counselor when out of nowhere [REDACTED] struck him in the back of his head with a closed fist. [REDACTED] reported that he felt pain when [REDACTED] struck him. [REDACTED] also stated that he and [REDACTED] have had verbal disputes in the past; however he is has never hit him prior to this incident. I explained the process of pressing charges to [REDACTED] and he only requested that I document the incident in a report.

Prior to leaving the hospital I took photos of where [REDACTED] reported being struck. I was not able to see any visible injury, however [REDACTED] stated that he had a small bump on his head.

Hospital staff reported that they have since moved [REDACTED] to a different area of the Hospital in order to prevent [REDACTED] from being assaultive again. They also reported that [REDACTED] is currently at the hospital on a court ordered hold for multiple psych issues until they can balance out his medication.

No crime - report taken for documentation.
